

Helping with Medication First Aid Quiz

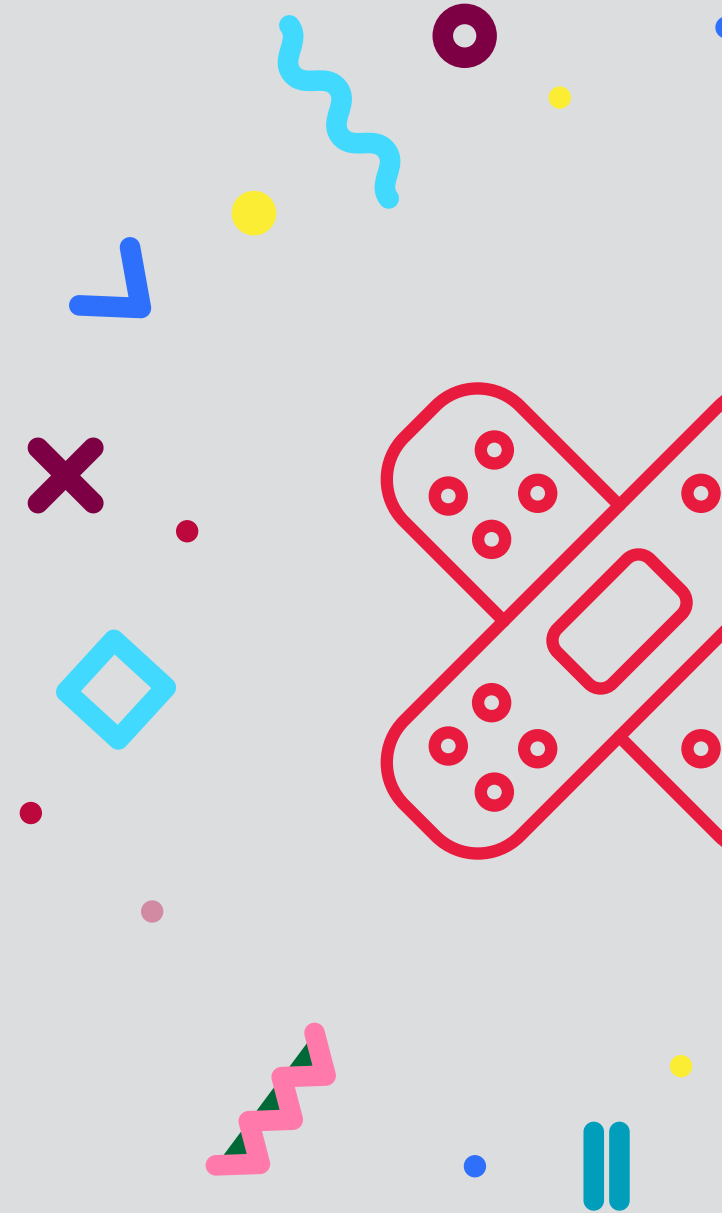

You can administer medication to your victim.

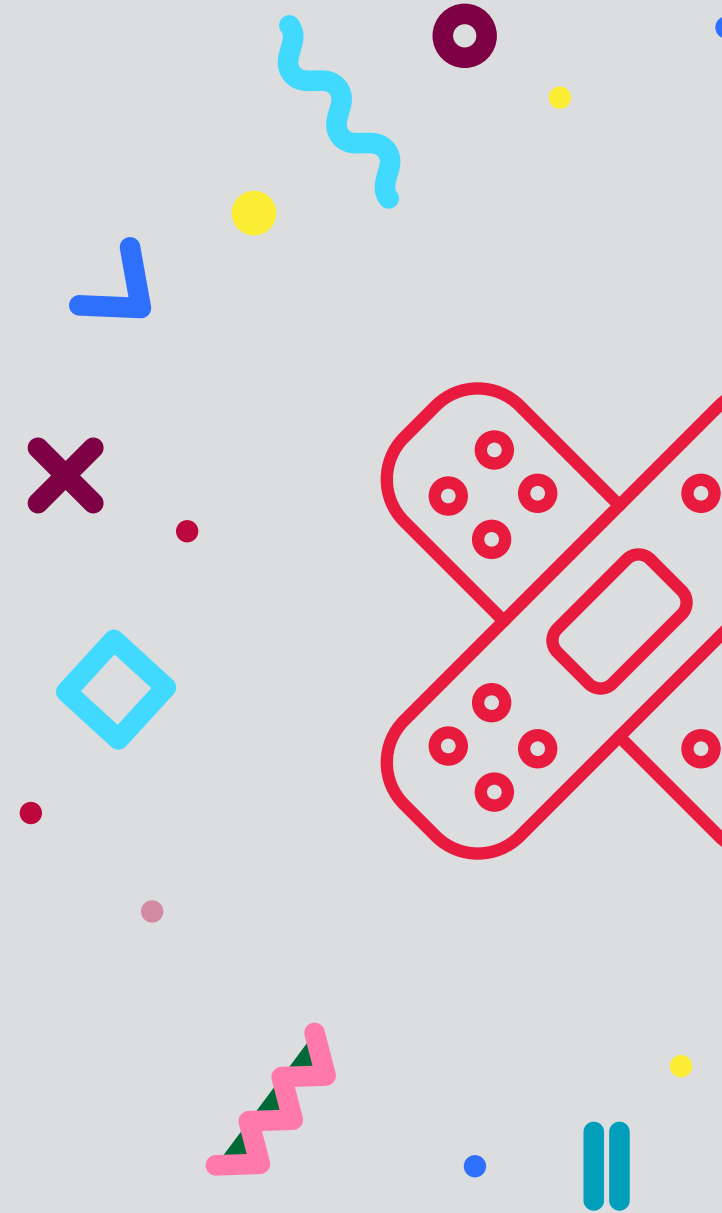

You have to use the right medicine.

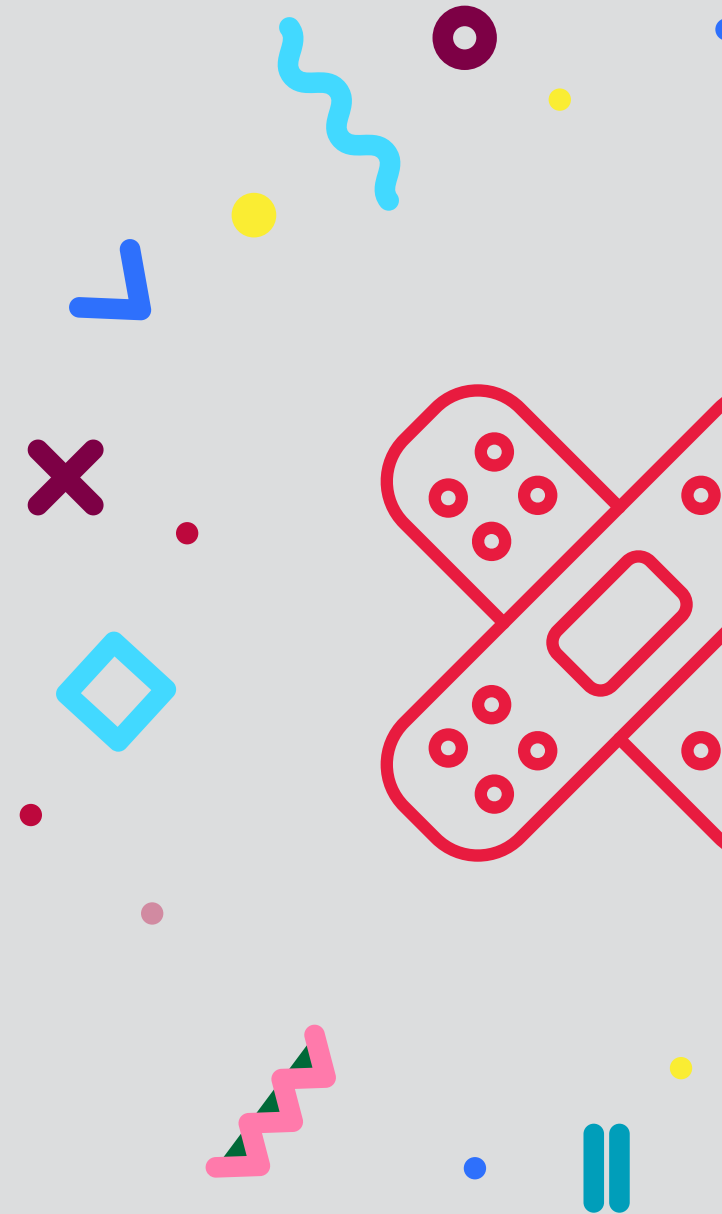

You can share medications if someone has the same illness.

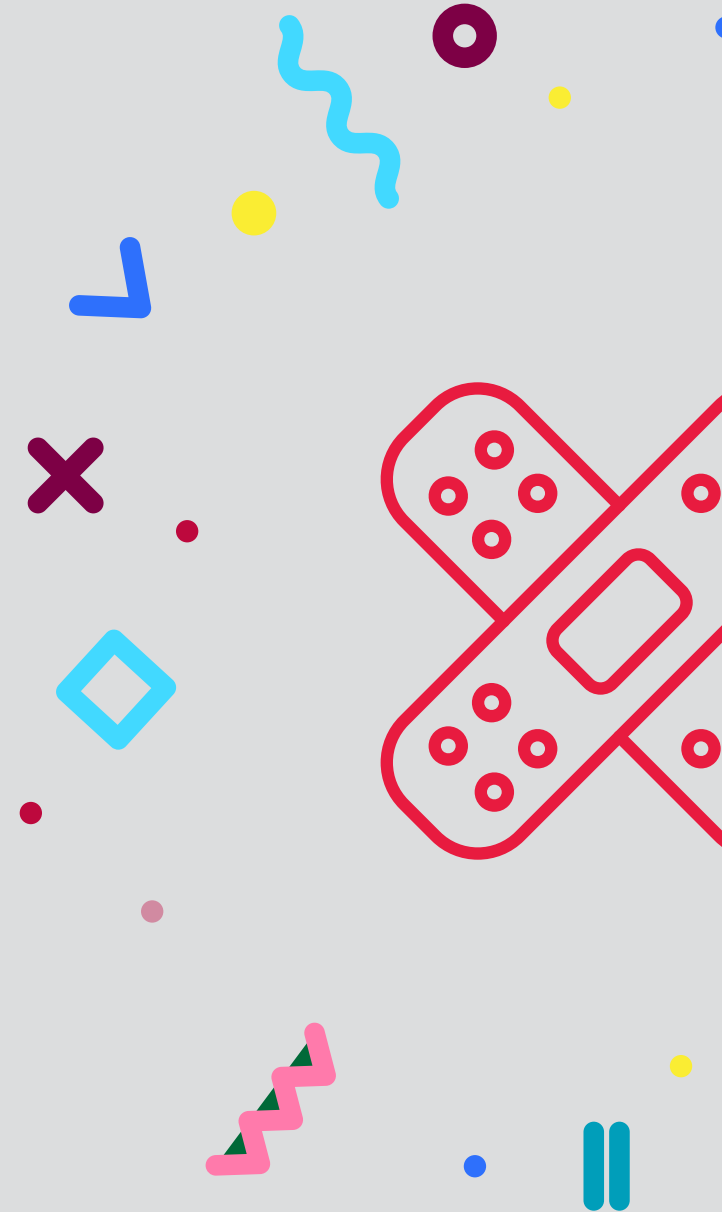

As long as the person gets the medication, it doesn't matter how it is delivered.

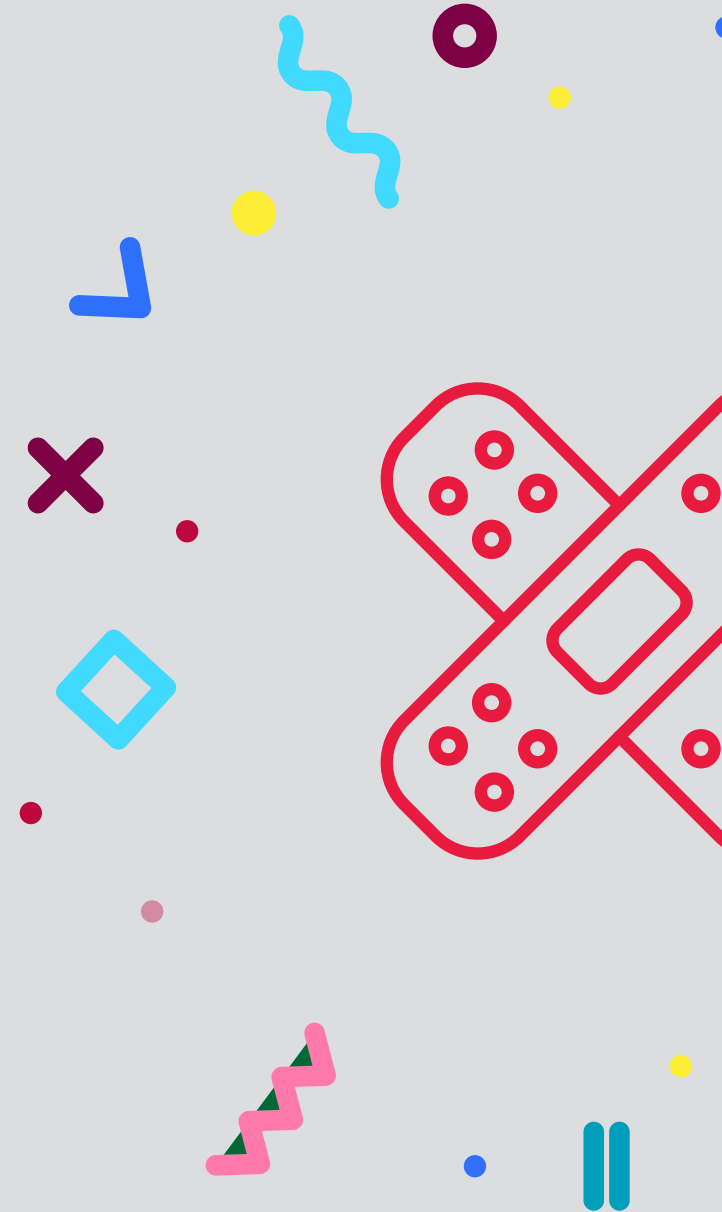

If a person is really struggling, you can allow them to have double the amount of recommended medication.

You must give the medication
at the right time.

If necessary, an auto-injector
(ex. EpiPen) will go through clothes
