

Interim Road Rehabilitation

Huntington Road | July 2023

Improvements are coming

The City of Vaughan is undertaking interim road rehabilitation work on Huntington Road, from Rutherford Road to McGillivray Road. This work will help preserve road conditions ahead of the future widening of Huntington Road.

The work will include asphalt paving over the existing gravel road and road drainage improvements.

Construction will start this month with anticipated completion by November 2023.

Construction impacts

Access to private, commercial and institutional driveways and entrances may be impacted at times during construction. Work around commercial driveways and entrances will be conducted in stages to maintain access.

Huntington Road will remain open to local vehicular traffic during construction. Temporary lane restrictions will be required to allow construction activities to proceed in a safe and efficient manner.

Advance notice will be provided to all business owners that will be impacted by construction.
