Background - Analysis and Options

History of National Public Works Week

In 1960, the American Public Works Association started a public information campaign to make the general public more aware of the work Public Works Departments did, as well as promote the “often-unsung heroes” of our society, the professionals who serve the public every day with quiet dedication.

Since its beginning, agencies, municipalities, and regions have used this week to educate and inform the public about the essential role that public works plays in the quality of their community life. Equally important are promoting the choice of Public Works as a career choice for the work force of the future, and recognizing those who currently serve in these crucial public roles.

The Theme for 2017 National Public Works Week is “Public Works Connects Us”

This year’s theme is “Public Works Connects Us” in recognition of the 57th Anniversary of National Public Works Week. Public Works staff promote and support service excellence through the many services they provide, such as:

- safe and clean drinking water
- effective wastewater
- stormwater management
- solid waste management services
- snow plowing
- safe and clean parks and fields
- maintain urban forest
- beautify the City with hanging baskets, flower beds and urns
- traffic services
- capital project programming, design, review, tendering, construction, inspection & asset management of the City’s linear and vertical infrastructure

Vaughan Celebrates National Public Works Week on May 27, 2017

On Saturday May 27, 2017, the Public Works Portfolio will host a National Public Works Week Day, with its annual “Public Works Week” event at the Joint Operations Centre located at 2800 Rutherford Rd. It will be held at the north-east employee parking lot (rain or shine) from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

The event itself will be multi-faceted, and as a result, has the potential to draw a number of people. The event includes:

- The promotion of the City’s Waste Management Program, and the sale of blue boxes, green bins, in-house kitchen containers and backyard composters and exchange of city purchased broken blue boxes, green bins or kitchen containers (City of Vaughan – Environmental Services Department)
