Economic Impact

Council approved funding for the implementation of the Office of the Integrity Commissioner on April 23, 2007.

Communications Plan

Once an Integrity Commissioner is in place, the City of Vaughan's website should be updated to include a page for the Office of the Integrity Commissioner. This page should provide links to the Code of Conduct, Complaint Procedure, applicable forms, public reports, frequently asked questions and contact information.

Purpose

This report outlines the steps for implementation of an Integrity Commissioner. At its' meeting on April 23, 2007, Council directed staff to bring a report to the Committee of the Whole meeting of May 28, 2007, outlining the implementation, parameters, roles and responsibilities for the Office of the Integrity Commissioner, modelled in a similar fashion to the parameters adopted by the City of Toronto.

Council also directed that an Accountability and Transparency Committee be established to review the City's current policies/practices pertaining to the Code of Conduct, confidentiality, accountability and transparency, and this committee also make recommendations to Council regarding the appointment of an Integrity Commissioner. This report will be presented at the Committee of the Whole meeting on June 18, 2007.

Background - Analysis and Options

A. Mandate

A municipality may assign specific functions and duties to an Integrity Commissioner with respect to the application of the Code of Conduct for members of Council and/or local boards and the application of any procedures, rules or policies of the municipality governing the ethical behaviour of Council and/or local boards.

The Municipal Act defines local boards as "a municipal service board, transportation commission, public library board, board of health, police services board, planning board, or any other board, commission, committee, body or local authority established or exercising any power under any Act with respect to the affairs or purposes of one or more municipalities, excluding a school board and a conservation authority". Based on this definition, the following statutory committees and boards could fall within the Integrity Commissioner's mandate, should Council choose to include them:

- Vaughan Public Library Board
- Accessibility Advisory Committee
- Committee of Adjustment
- Court of Revision

- Emergency Management Program Committee
- Hearing Committee for Licensing Matters
- Heritage Vaughan
- Property Standards Committee

While members of Council sit on some of these boards and committees, most are comprised of members of the public. Currently, the Code of Conduct for Council does not apply to local board or committee members. Staff recommend that the Integrity Commissioner's mandate be applied to members of Council only. The mandate can be reviewed in the future.

The City of Toronto adopted its Code of Conduct in September, 1999 and directed that it apply to Council and all other appointments to City agencies, boards and commissions. In September, 2006, the Integrity Commissioner's mandate was expanded when the Council Code of Conduct Complaint Protocol was amended to apply to complaints against members of local boards.

In keeping with the City of Toronto's model, the Integrity Commissioner's mandate may include the following:

- 1. Advisory: To provide written and oral advice to individual members of Council about their own situation respecting the Code of Conduct and other by-laws and policies governing the ethical behaviour of members, including general interpretation of the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act, and providing the full Council with specific and general opinions and advice respecting compliance by elected officials with the provisions of governing Acts, and other conduct policies;
- 2. Complaint Investigation: To assess and investigate complaints against elected officials from members of the public, City staff, and Councillors or on reference from the whole Council;
- 3. Complaint Adjudication: To determine whether a member of Council has violated a City protocol, by-law or policy governing their ethical behaviour except that (as in the provincial model) Council makes the final decision on whether any penalty (as limited by the Act) recommended by the Commissioner is imposed on the member found in contravention; and
- 4. Educational: To publish an annual report on findings in typical advice and complaint cases; providing outreach programs to members of Council and staff on legislation, protocols, and office procedures emphasizing the importance of ethics for public confidence in municipal government; and disseminating information available to the public on the City's website.

It should be noted that the City of Toronto's Integrity Commissioner's advisory role includes assisting with the general interpretation of the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act. This legislation deals with pecuniary conflicts of interest. Council members receive their own independent legal advice related to the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act. The Integrity Commissioner will not be able to answer specific questions of individual compliance or provide legal advice in relation to this legislation. Staff recommend that the above mandate be adopted.

B. Duties

In accordance with the City of Toronto's model, the Integrity Commissioner's duties may include the following:

EXTRACT FROM COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES OF JUNE 11, 2007

Item 31, CW Report No. 28 - Page 4

- 1. To provide written and oral advice to individual members of Council about their own situation under the Code of Conduct and other by-laws, policies and protocols governing the ethical behaviour of Council.
- 2. To provide Council with specific and general opinions and advice on the City's by-laws, policies and protocols regulating the conduct of members of Council, and issues of compliance with those by-laws, policies and protocols.
- To conduct inquiries into a request made by Council, a member of Council, or a member of the public into whether a member of Council has contravened any applicable code of conduct.
- 4. To determine whether a member of Council has in fact violated a City by-law, policy or protocol governing their ethical behaviour and report any violation with any recommendation for sanction to Council, in accordance with the Municipal Act and any prevailing City protocols or policies.
- 5. To publish an annual report on the work of the office of the Integrity Commissioner including examples in general terms of advice rendered and complaints received and disposed of.
- 6. To provide general advice to members of Council and City of Vaughan staff on issues of ethics and integrity including relevant statutes, codes of conduct, City by-laws, policies, protocols and office procedures, and emphasizing the importance of ethics for public confidence in municipal government.

In the Toronto model, the above duties include local boards and Council staff. It is recommended that the duties as listed above be adopted and be applicable to members of Council.

C. Code of Conduct

The City of Vaughan has a Code of Conduct for members of Council. This Code of Conduct should be updated to include provisions regarding a complaint procedure and penalties. It is recommended that the Accountability and Transparency Committee, along with the Integrity Commissioner, once appointed, review the current Code of Conduct and make recommendations to Council regarding any revisions.

D. Complaints Procedure

A procedure for the filing of complaints and investigations by the Integrity Commissioner should be drafted and approved by Council. As a reference, the City of Toronto's Council Code of Conduct Complaint Protocol is attached at Attachment 1. It sets out both an informal and formal complaint procedure. It requires that formal complaints must be in writing and include a supporting affidavit setting out the evidence in support of the complaint. Attachment 2 is a copy of the form of affidavit.

The Protocol also deals with the types of complaints not dealt with by the Integrity Commissioner and the manner in which the Integrity Commissioner will investigate and report on complaints.

A number of other matters may be considered for the complaint procedure, including the following:

Item 31, CW Report No. 28 - Page 5

- the manner in which complaints may be withdrawn and how the Integrity Commissioner should deal with this (terminate or continue investigation where warranted);
- whether the Integrity Commissioner may commence investigations of his or her own accord:
- when a public inquiry under the Public Inquiries Act may be initiated;
- whether notice provisions for members of Council who are the subject of a complaint should be implemented where sanctions are being recommended along with an opportunity to comment on the proposed sanction;
- specifics regarding the preservation of secrecy and confidentiality of investigations;
- what information will be made available to the public; and
- the manner in which any contraventions of the Criminal Code or other Acts are to be handled.

Staff will proceed to draft a complaint procedure. It is recommended that a City of Vaughan draft complaint procedure be reviewed by the Integrity Commissioner and the Accountability and Transparency Committee, to make recommendations to Council for final approval.

E. Reporting to Council

An Integrity Commissioner may provide a periodic report to Council regarding his or her activities, summarizing advice given without disclosing confidential information that could identify any person concerned. The City of Toronto's Integrity Commissioner has submitted annual reports which discuss the general nature of the matters handled, including samples of the advice provided. In addition, other aspects of his work are addressed along with procedural and budgetary matters. It is recommended that an annual general report be provided to Council.

Toronto's Integrity Commissioner also provides reports to Council upon the completion of individual investigations, with recommendations where warranted. The Act provides a duty of confidentiality with respect to the handling of investigations and reporting. The complaint procedure will contain provisions addressing reporting to Council on individual matters.

F. Delegation

The City of Toronto's Integrity Commissioner makes recommendations to Council regarding proposed penalties where contraventions of the Code of Conduct are found. Council makes the final decision as to the appropriate penalty. Alternatively, Council may delegate the authority to assess and impose penalties to the Integrity Commissioner. In this case, an appeal process would be appropriate with the appeal being made to Council. In any event, any administrative decision is subject to judicial review. It is recommended that the Integrity Commissioner make recommendations to Council regarding proposed penalties.

G. Qualifications and Recruitment

Given the special role of such an official in advising Council, it would be appropriate for the City Integrity Commissioner to be recruited using the services of an independent executive search firm. Alternatively, Council can authorize staff to place an advertisement in appropriate sources for the position, as other levels of government have done. Appointment of the Integrity Commissioner would be recommended by the Accountability and Transparency Committee. It is recommended that an independent executive search firm be retained to recruit for the Integrity Commissioner position. Funding was approved by Council on April 23, 2007.
